MONTROSE

Montrose, a central Houston community established in 1911, is a demographically diverse neighborhood with renovated mansions, bungalows with wide porches, and cottages located along tree-lined boulevards. Montrose is a major cultural hub. The area was named as one of the "ten great neighborhoods in America" by the American Planning Association, in 2009. Because of the inclusion of Montrose, the Houston Heights, and the Rice University area, it is nicknamed "hipstrip", referring to its progressive and urban ethic. Montrose houses five of the city's 15 designated historic districts. Development over the years has maintained, if not added to, the community's distinctive personality which encompasses an interesting selection of architecture. Whether its antique shopping in the West Gray/River Oaks shopping areas, enjoying art, science or history at one of the various museums or simply hanging with friends at a local restaurant or bar, there is always something to see and do in the Montrose area.

AREA DEVELOPMENT

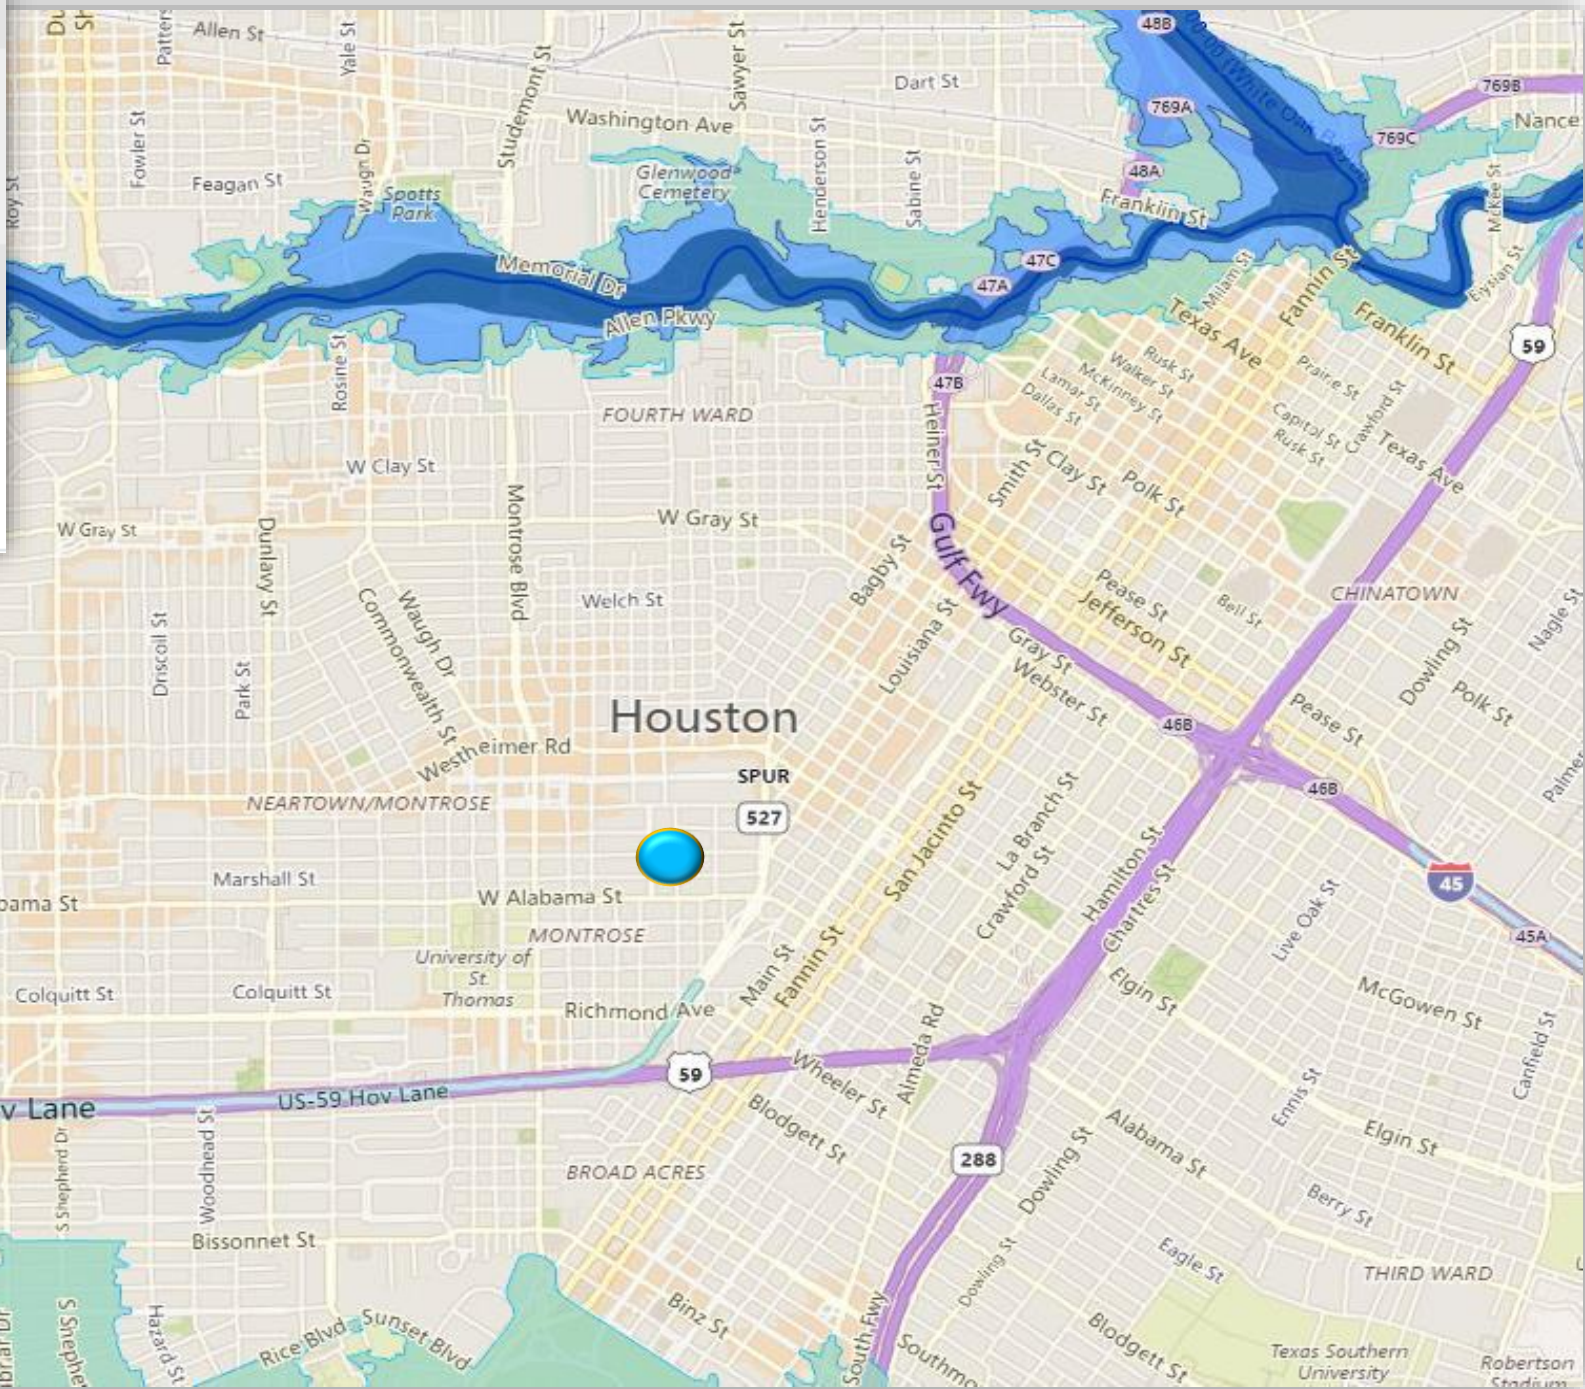

The Montrose area is Houston's true live/work/play submarket. Montrose has a little bit of everything. River Oaks, Midtown, Upper Kirby, and Afton Oaks provide the submarket with a range of diverse living, working, retail, and entertainment destinations that continually attract the who's who of Houston. In addition, amenities like Memorial Park and the River Oaks District as well as access to Uptown, the Museum District, and the CBD all provide renters with plenty to do.

Developers have always favored building in this area but with the added competition, it will take time for these new units to lease. Of the properties built during the first wave (2013–14) of supply, most are fully stabilized. The trouble arises in the properties late to the party (2015–17). Leasing slowed considerably last year, and many of these properties aren't close to reaching stabilization. Demographics can support pricey new apartments and are a main reason so many are built here. More than 60% of households in the area are renters. And when combined with the fact that residents here earn a median income of $85,000/year, the $1,750/month rental rates and a glut of new supply can be justified.

Information About Brokerage Services

Texas law requires all real estate license holders to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

11-2-2015

TYPES OF REAL ESTATE LICENSE HOLDERS:

- A BROKER is responsible for all brokerage activities, including acts performed by sales agents sponsored by the broker.
- A SALES AGENT must be sponsored by a broker and works with clients on behalf of the broker.

A BROKER'S MINIMUM DUTIES REQUIRED BY LAW (A client is the person or party that the broker represents):

- Put the interests of the client above all others, including the broker's own interests;
- Inform the client of any material information about the property or transaction received by the broker;
- Answer the client's questions and present any offer to or counter-offer from the client; and
- Treat all parties to a real estate transaction honestly and fairly.

A LICENSE HOLDER CAN REPRESENT A PARTY IN A REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION:

AS AGENT FOR OWNER (SELLER/LANDLORD): The broker becomes the property owner's agent through an agreement with the owner, usually in a written listing to sell or property management agreement. An owner's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the owner of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent or subagent by the buyer or buyer's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BUYER/TENANT: The broker becomes the buyer/tenant's agent by agreeing to represent the buyer, usually through a written representation agreement. A buyer's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the buyer of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by the seller or seller's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BOTH - INTERMEDIARY: To act as an intermediary between the parties the broker must first obtain the written agreement of each party to the transaction. The written agreement must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. A broker who acts as an intermediary:

- Must treat all parties to the transaction impartially and fairly;
- May, with the parties' written consent, appoint a different license holder associated with the broker to each party (owner and buyer) to communicate with, provide opinions and advice to, and carry out the instructions of each party to the transaction.
- Must not, unless specifically authorized in writing to do so by the party, disclose:
 - o that the owner will accept a price less than the written asking price;
 - o that the buyer/tenant will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer; and
 - o any confidential information or any other information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose, unless required to do so by law.

AS SUBAGENT: A license holder acts as a subagent when aiding a buyer in a transaction without an agreement to represent the buyer. A subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first.

TO AVOID DISPUTES, ALL AGREEMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND A BROKER SHOULD BE IN WRITING AND CLEARLY ESTABLISH:

- The broker's duties and responsibilities to you, and your obligations under the representation agreement.
- Who will pay the broker for services provided to you, when payment will be made and how the payment will be calculated.

LICENSE HOLDER CONTACT INFORMATION: This notice is being provided for information purposes. It does not create an obligation for you to use the broker's services. Please acknowledge receipt of this notice below and retain a copy for your records.
