GLENVIEW

The Glenview Apartments is a two story garden style apartment community located in the U of H/I-45 South submarket of SE Houston, TX in the Meadowbrook-Allendale neighborhood. This "All Bills Paid" asset was constructed in 1955 and per HCAD, underwent some renovations in 2019. The units feature versatile floorplans with private patios or balconies, ceiling fans, and walk-in closets.

Per owner, most units have electric ranges but there are some gas stoves. 90% of the units are "Classic" and have square vinyl flooring. There are 6 remodeled units at a cost of $3k/unit (yielding a $200/unit monthly bump). There is Vinyl woodplank flooring in 10 units that rent for a $50 increase per month. Implementing water saving devices could potentially reduce the water/sewer bill by 50%. There are no down units, per owner.

There is one laundry room and the CSC laundry contract has expired. There are no washer/dryer connections in units, but it appears that a buyer can add them.

There are 14 stairwells that have been replaced, the roofs were replaced approximately 14 years ago. There are four boilers. 1 large boiler is 1.5 years old and supplies water to 8 buildings. The 3 smaller boilers are approximately 5 years old. Building 18 has a pitched roof that was replaced in 2018. The property just passed habitability.

The asset has reportedly never flooded and currently has no tenants receiving government assistance. Insurance was recently renewed at a lower rate. Reserved parking was increased from $30/month to $35/month. There are 32 cameras on the property. There is an empty slab that could be used for future tenant storage units.

Situated between Pasadena and Park Place, Meadowbrook-Allendale is a quaint Houston suburb with all the benefits of bustling urban areas with a laidback pace of living. With Houston a quick 11-mile jaunt northwest, residents of the Meadowbrook-Allendale neighborhood are in proximity to some exciting metropolitan perks such as the Museum of Fine Arts, Space Center Houston, and the Houston Zoo. Located a convenient three miles south of Meadowbrook-Allendale is the highly-rated William P. Hobby Airport.

LOCATION OVERVIEW

- Located near the Greater Hobby area of Houston. This mostly blue-collar area sits nearly 14 miles southeast of downtown.
- Residents enjoy more space and lower cost of living than neighborhoods closer to the city, clearing up budgets and schedules.
- The area is within close proximity to Texas Southern University, The University of Houston and William P. Hobby Airport, while downtown Houston is just a 20 minute drive away.
- Major business districts convenient are Hobby Airport, Ellington Field, Downtown Houston, the University of Houston, Texas Southern University and Houston Community College.
- The area has a diverse selection of restaurants that serve everything from bubble tea to Tex-Mex, and shops selling antiques or sporting gear. Greater Hobby also provides plenty of green spaces and recreation space for residents to enjoy without having to venture far from their apartments, such as Blackhawk Park.
- Access to major highways is I-45 and Loop 610.

HOUSTON 2024

Houston

Metro

Overview

HOUSTON

Over the last two decades, there has been a remarkable transformation in Houston. Today, the nation's fourth largest city has become a diverse, vibrant metro filled with talented people who have an undeniable spirit. The economy is strong, the city is made up of many different cultures, and the quality of life is second to none. Houston has one of the youngest, fastest-growing and most diverse populations anywhere in the world. One in four of the region's 7.3 million residents is foreign born. From 2010 to 2018, Houston added 1.1 million new residents, an 18.2 percent increase, the fastest rate of population growth among the 10 most populous U.S. Metros.

In addition to Houston's diversity as a community, Houston offers a well-developed suite of key global industries – including energy, life science, manufacturing, logistics and aerospace. As these industries digitize, Houston is a hotbed of rapid technological development thanks to its access to customers and expertise.

A thriving international city, Houston's ties stretch to all corners of the world. The region's geographic location makes it easy to move both goods and people around the globe. With one of the largest ports in the country and two international airports, Houston connects companies to the world.

Since emerging from the pandemic, metro Houston has gained well over half a million jobs. That's a decade's worth of growth in just 42 months. As of October '23, Houston added nearly 200,000 more jobs than it did before COVID. Over the past three-plus years, Houston also set records for home sales (440,00 closings), witnessed a surge in commercial construction ($40+ billion), and handled record container traffic at the port (12.5 million TEUs). But Houston can't maintain that pace indefinitely. Like a distance runner, Houston was quick out of the blocks, but now must find a more sustainable pace. Growth will slow in '24, it may even seem sluggish, but that's only because we've watched Houston sprint through the last three years. The region needs time to catch its breath, which is what will happen in '24. Growth will pick up again in '25, not back to the rapid pace of recent years, but to a more moderate pace, one that can be maintained for the long run.

Houstonians can expect the following in 2024

- Job growth below the current pace
- More vehicles on the freeways
- Record passenger volumes at the region's airports
- Fewer housing starts
- Energy prices high enough to spur an uptick in drilling
- Minor reductions in inflation
- No relief on interest rates until mid-year
- And a slump in commercial construction

The Greater Houston Partnership's forecast calls for growth in admin services, arts, entertainment, recreation, energy, government, health care, hotels, manufacturing, other services, private education, professional services, restaurants and bars, retail, transportation, and wholesale trade. Job losses will occur in construction, finance and insurance, information, and real estate.

The region is projected to add 57,600 jobs on net in '24, a subpar performance compared to recent years but still a healthy gain. Houston should finish the year with total employment surpassing 3.4 million, a new record for the region.

Information About Brokerage Services

Texas law requires all real estate license holders to give the following information about brokerage services to prospective buyers, tenants, sellers and landlords.

TYPES OF REAL ESTATE LICENSE HOLDERS:

- A BROKER is responsible for all brokerage activities, including acts performed by sales agents sponsored by the broker.
- A SALES AGENT must be sponsored by a broker and works with clients on behalf of the broker.

A BROKER'S MINIMUM DUTIES REQUIRED BY LAW (A client is the person or party that the broker represents):

- Put the interests of the client above all others, including the broker's own interests;
- Inform the client of any material information about the property or transaction received by the broker;
- Answer the client's questions and present any offer to or counter-offer from the client; and
- Treat all parties to a real estate transaction honestly and fairly.

A LICENSE HOLDER CAN REPRESENT A PARTY IN A REAL ESTATE TRANSACTION:

AS AGENT FOR OWNER (SELLER/LANDLORD): The broker becomes the property owner's agent through an agreement with the owner, usually in a written listing to sell or property management agreement. An owner's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the owner of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent or subagent by the buyer or buyer's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BUYER/TENANT: The broker becomes the buyer/tenant's agent by agreeing to represent the buyer, usually through a written representation agreement. A buyer's agent must perform the broker's minimum duties above and must inform the buyer of any material information about the property or transaction known by the agent, including information disclosed to the agent by the seller or seller's agent.

AS AGENT FOR BOTH - INTERMEDIARY: To act as an intermediary between the parties the broker must first obtain the written agreement of each party to the transaction. The written agreement must state who will pay the broker and, in conspicuous bold or underlined print, set forth the broker's obligations as an intermediary. A broker who acts as an intermediary:

- Must treat all parties to the transaction impartially and fairly;
- May, with the parties' written consent, appoint a different license holder associated with the broker to each party (owner and buyer) to communicate with, provide opinions and advice to, and carry out the instructions of each party to the transaction.
- Must not, unless specifically authorized in writing to do so by the party, disclose:
 - that the owner will accept a price less than the written asking price;
 - that the buyer/tenant will pay a price greater than the price submitted in a written offer; and
 - any confidential information or any other information that a party specifically instructs the broker in writing not to disclose, unless required to do so by law.

AS SUBAGENT: A license holder acts as a subagent when aiding a buyer in a transaction without an agreement to represent the buyer. A subagent can assist the buyer but does not represent the buyer and must place the interests of the owner first.

TO AVOID DISPUTES, ALL AGREEMENTS BETWEEN YOU AND A BROKER SHOULD BE IN WRITING AND CLEARLY ESTABLISH:

- The broker's duties and responsibilities to you, and your obligations under the representation agreement.
- Who will pay the broker for services provided to you, when payment will be made and how the payment will be calculated.

LICENSE HOLDER CONTACT INFORMATION: This notice is being provided for information purposes. It does not create an obligation for you to use the broker's services. Please acknowledge receipt of this notice below and retain a copy for your records.
